The Massachusetts Election, &c.

Boston, Nov. 28, 1863. The second trial for the election of representatives to-lay, has established beyond doubt the whig supremacy in Massachusetts for the next year. Lowell elects ten ns no choice before elect whigs. The weather here is cloudy and cold, and a few fiakes of the first of the season—fell to-day.

Late from Texas, &c.
Baltimons, Nov. 28, 1853. the New Orleans mail of Tuesday last is received, but he papers contain no news of importance.

New Orleans papers of Monday last contained dates from ston, Texas to the 17th Nov., announcing the or-tion of the Legislature and the delivery of Governor Bell's message, which is largely devoted to the subject of the Pacific Railroad. The Governor recommends the El Passo route. The system of military defence of the fronher is complained of as inadequate, and the action of the Legislature is invoked in the matter.

Yellow fever was still lirgering at Galveston and Hous-

A letter from El Passo, dated 27th October, says that the lans had attacked a company of Americans and stolen ave hundred head of horses and mules, and also blankets and elething. Depredations by the Indians were of daily mrence; they even venture within a few hundred yards of the fort occupied by U S. troops.

The Alabama Legislature had decided to elect U. S. Sen ators on the 26th, (Saturday last.) A despatch to the Charleston Mercury, says the election of Fitzpatrick and Clay: the caucus nominees, is probable, but not certain.

Clese of Navigation at Bangor-Vessels Blocked in the Icc. BANGOR, Nov. 28, 1853.

Navigation is closed here; the anchor ice with the sur se ice making an obstruction of several feet in thicksees. There are from sixty to eighty vessels, with full er, Boston, and Eastern State. These steamboats de an attempt on Sunday to force their way through, ice obstruction extends about five miles. A contract has ewpers and Col. John Goddard and James Duaning to cut a sharnel and get out the ressels at $1 per ton, which will amount to about $14,000. The job will last about seven days, and the railroad force has been turned to the removal of the ice.

Canal Navigation, &c.

ALBANY, Nov. 28, 1853. sold, and the forwarders by canal are about making their last shipments for the season. Quits a number of boats hat shipments for the season. Quits a number of boats are laid up already. No ice has formed in the canal as yet, but the first cold snow storm will be likely to close it.

BUFFALO, Nov. 28, 1853.

The weather here continues warm and pleasant, with every prospect of a late closing of navigation. The receipts by the Lake are fair, sailing vessels and propellers being in full blast. The shipments of wheat by canal are small. There is some talk of shipping flour through, if the weather holds fair till to morrow.

Synacuse, Nov. 28, 1853.

For several days past the ground has been frozen hard, but the weather is moderate to day, and it is thawing.

Bosts continue to pl lively.

BRIG DELHI WRECKED AND ABANDONED, ETC.

Риплеменна, Nov. 28, 1853. A despatch from the Breakwater states that the brig Delhi, from Porto Rico, with sugar and melasses, for New York, struck on the Breakwater last night, and was abandoned by the captain and crew. Police Intelligence. THE BANK OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK MOREHERY— MONEY RETURNED TO THE BANK.

In the case of the recent bank robbery, mentioned in yesterday's edition, quite a rumber of persons congregaview of seeing the prisoner, Johnson, the robber of the bank, whose examination it was believed would take was not brought from the cell, and many went away disap-pointed at not being gratified with a sight of the man who so pointed at not being gratified with a sight of the man who so exteriously extracted $27,810 from the Bank of the State of New York without detection. Officer Keefe, yesterday, made an affidarit setting forth the manner and circumstances attending the street and the recovery of the money, which amounts to $32,265, the facts of which we have already published.

Mr. Adolphus H. Leffingwell, assistant teller of the bank, testified in an affidavit the time of the larceny, and also the amount of money stolen, and identifies the bills recovered by the police to be those stolen from the bank; some of the paper wrappers still bear the private marks. Matthias Van Stay, the porter of the bank, testified to the loss of the money, and to the placing of the bag containing it behind the pillars, near the third teller's desk, while he carried in some species, which occupied him not more than five minutes, and when he returned the money was gone.

more than five minutes, and when he returned the money was gone.

The Chief of Pelice vesterday delivered the stolon money back to the bank, and took a receipt for the same; but whether the officer received the reward for the rocovery of the money we do not learn. We suppose he did not, as there appears to be more than one claimant. Capt, Brennan of the Sixth ward police sets up a claim for a portion of the reward, on the ground that he first informed Keefe that Channesy Johnson was the robber of the bank; and secondly, that he arrested him on that charge and brought him to the Sixth ward station house, as he had a charge against the privare independent of the bank robbery. How far this claim will be recognised by the bank remains to be seen.

Channesy Johnson is an old offender, having served a term of years in the State prison at Sicy Sing, and linewise in the State prison from the Albany isil with the motorious Bob Setton, the pickpocket. It is now more than likely that a term of five years in the State prison will be awarded him on this crime, and thus terminat his existence in prison, he being in very fields heal h.
